

I am opposed to easing restrictions on ownership of media. When news is in the hands of a few, only the few will control public opinion. Local, independent newspapers, radio and television outlets should be encouraged and the media giants forced to face competition.